

SONOGRAPHY WEEK

WEBINARS AND INFORMATION

Member Monday

Kicking things off “in style”!

We'll introduce you to your new member portal coming soon, release a new Facebook frame and Zoom background to dress up your online profile and meeting backdrop, and help you add a splash of colour to your uniform with new Sonography Canada socks!

Are you lucky enough to have received a pair of our exclusive SonoSox? We want to see you “pose your toes” or “put your best foot forward” - share your photos at #sonographyweek2020.

If you didn't attend our conference, but can't live without a pair, get yours now by contacting sdavies@sonographycanada.ca

(discounts available for orders over 20 – limited stock available)

Townhall Tuesday

You've got Questions, We've Got Answers!

The Chair, Executive Director, Professional Practice Manager and Certification Manager of Sonography Canada will all be available for a live, interactive session to answer any questions you may have about your association, the latest #SonographersSaveLives campaign, the credentialing process, and/or the practice of diagnostic medical sonography. Save the date and join the conversation!

Award Winner Wednesday

It's about merit and credit!

Their submissions earned them an award. Now their presentations will earn you credits. Briana Cartwright, MSc, CRGS, winner of the Outstanding Journal Submission Award, will share her case study on The Role of Contrast Enhanced Ultrasound in assessing a rare undifferentiated embryonal sarcoma of the liver while Alana Currie, CRGS, CRCS, winner of the Outstanding Article or Case Study Award will discuss her case study on Gastroschisis. Register for this webinar and earn 1 CPD sonography-based credit!

Throwback Thursday

Celebrating the 20th anniversary of credentials in sonography in Canada!

With the dawn of the new millennium came the dawn of the Canadian Registry of Ultrasound Professionals. On our 20th anniversary, we'll tell you the story about the marriage of two organizations and the birth of new Canadian credentials for our profession.

Frontline Friday

Helping sonographers find their voice through a self-advocacy bootcamp!

This online session with Huw Williams, President of Impact Public Relations, is designed to provide you with the self-advocacy tools you need to be able to promote yourself, your profession, and your needs within the workplace and your community. Let's work together to encourage employers to recognize the unique skills, competencies, physical requirements and challenges that make sonographers different from other diagnostic imaging professionals and members of the healthcare team. Your participation will earn you 1.5 relevant-to-practice CPD credits!
